HISTORY

Since 1880, the Woodbridge Inn has been welcoming guests to the mountains of north Georgia with its reputation and tradition of excellence.

It all started when Ed Lenning, after making his fortune in the California Gold Rush, built a boarding house in 1849 for travelers arriving by stagecoach. In response to the arrival of the Marietta and North Georgia Railroad, he built a larger boarding house, now Woodbridge Inn. The Lenning Hotel remained in the family for 96 years and was renamed Jasper Hotel during some of this time.

For many of its years, the inn was a getaway for Atlantans, Floridians, and others seeking to escape the summer heat. In 1976, the property was purchased by Joe Rueffert who had escaped from East Germany, and his family lived in the upstairs rooms of the inn, continuing the family-run tradition for another 43 years. In 2020, the inn reopened after a brief closure.

The iconic, boutique hotel and restaurant has a spectacular view of the Blue Ridge mountains and offers an upscale and cozy “home away from home.” With its historic and quaint rooms, it is the perfect special events destination. We are so glad you joined us!
